

Something to Chew On!!!!

Well we are going into another decade or ending a decade; however, you look at it. There will be a lot of eyesight jokes next year (20/20). I can't believe how warm it is here, 60 degrees in December! Well, the Colts are done, so I will root for my hometown team, the 49ers this year. I wish everyone a happy, prosperous and peaceful 2020. See you next year.

On New Year's Eve, Marilyn stood up in the local pub and said that it was time to get ready. At the stroke of midnight, she wanted every husband to be standing next to the one person who made his life worth living. Well, it was kind of embarrassing. As the clock struck, the bartender was almost crushed to death.

On New Year's Eve, Bill was in no shape to drive having had a few too many, so he sensibly left his car in the car park and walked home. As he was wobbling along, he was stopped by a cop. "What are you doing out here at four o'clock in the morning?" asked the officer. "I'm on my way to a lecture," answered Bill. "And who in their right mind is going to give a lecture at this time on New Year's Eve?" asked the cop sarcastically. "My wife," slurred Bill grimly. My New Year's resolution is to help all my friends gain ten pounds so I look skinnier.

I was going to quit all my bad habits for the new year, but then I remembered that nobody likes a quitter.

My friend asked me where I see myself in the new year. How would I know? I don't have 2020 vision.

Every year on New Year's Eve, when everyone's counting down the final ten seconds to ring in the new year, I get up off the couch and stand up. I stand up and raise my left leg and just leave it raised for a little while until the countdown finishes and midnight strikes, so that I always start the new year off on the right foot.

New Year Prayer

God, grant me the senility to forget the people I never liked anyway,
The good fortune to run into the ones that I do,
And the eyesight to tell the difference.

Submitted by AGCS Lloyd Corbett, USN RET