

WALLET FOUND IN ANTARCTICA RETURNED TO OWNER DECADES LATER!!

Editor's note: The email chain below summarizes a truly remarkable event regarding one of our own, LT Paul O. Grisham, who submitted two interesting articles to the Aerograph in August 2012 which can be read at the following link:

I'm also including the link for the "Indiana Spirit of '45" organization which set the wheels in motion to make it possible. Well worth checking out.

Greetings,

We at Indiana Spirit of '45 were contacted by a young lady who came into possession of two wallets from the demolition and cleanup of buildings that have collapsed in the Antarctic. Two wallets were found behind some lockers during the process and she has asked us to help in finding the rightful owners or nearest family members (in the case the owner is deceased). While researching to find US Navy, LTJG Paul O. Grisham, your organization came up with a page with the same name of the individual and we are hoping the items belong to him.

I have attached the link of the page as well as photos of the items. If you are able to help us get them back to him, or his family, it would be truly appreciated.

Thank You,
Bruce McKee

LT Grisham,

Your wallet, I assume a real old one, has been found on Antarctica! Please contact Bruce McKee at the contact information below to retrieve it.

Gary,

Thank you all very much for your assistance in locating Lt. Grisham. I had a nice conversation with Paul this afternoon, he was amazed that his wallet was located and we will be sending it to him as soon as possible.

Thank You Again!!
